Thinking about it

1. What is the one photo that would summarise your last overseas trip (for holiday or work or both)?
2. Dan McCabe's works capture sites from Western Australia that were memorable to him. His images appear as if he were to record a movie while continuously moving the camera and then compressing it all into one image. Imagine doing the same thing from your bedroom window and from the fly-deck at work. What would the shapes and colours look like?
3. Once a day for the next week, stop and observe rather than swipe and screen. What did you see and what surprised you?
